OSP Edmonton!

March 14, 2007 by lauren

So we have this little thing we like to call "OSP Edmonton". OSP stands for Open Source Photo, which is a forum for nice photographers to share knowledge. That's how we like to roll, sharing with our friends 😊 So we have some local wedding photographer friends that we meet up just to chat, hang out, and share.

Yesterday we held our little get together in our new meeting room. Um, fun! Naturally the Wii came out and well, so did the camera. The results:

Rob taking in some boxing. He's a very expressive player!

Me trying to dodge! I didn't fare very well.... 😞

Our buddy Chris Uglanica (yes, I did just link to a "competitor"! lol!)

The boxing almost-pro, Lloyd. Look at that incredible focus!

After playing boxing for probably a couple of hours Lloyd had an incredible winning streak going on. But....well....we then got into a losing streak. Anyone who has played video games knows that you can't just leave things, you have to succeed! So we all gave it a go and finally...

SUCCESS!!!!

Awesome, awesome times. Thanks so much for coming over guys, and we can't wait for the rematch!

Kellie & Jason (Alternate Title: There are not enough gold stars!)

March 6, 2007 by lauren

Yeah, major major snaps for Kellie & Jason!!! We had their engagement session yesterday and well.....it was cold. To put it mildly.

But that didn't stop us from getting some super cool pictures!

Our Reading Week Project

March 4, 2007 by lauren

Last week was reading week for those fine kids at the University of Alberta, Rob included. Since we had a bunch of time where both of us could work on something together we decided to call in the folks at Trading Spaces and get our meeting room redecorated!!!

Ok so we didn't call Trading Spaces....but we did redecorate on our own! Holy smokes, what a difficult thing to do. Here we have this one tiny room to work on and it took us all week to get it to a point that is really just a start! But we're happy, its way spiffier, and when we look at the before pictures, we can't believe we had clients over in such a crazy room!

Before:

AFTER!!!!

Oh yes! 42" LCD TV! Just wait until you guys come over for post-wedding picture viewings!!

As you can see, however, there are two huge blank spots on our walls! We want to get some big canvas prints to go up there, but have to pick out the pictures. We will probably have a post up here in a little bit so you can vote on which one you would like to see printed! How fun!

So, here's an open invitation to all present and future clients, come over any time, hang out in our super groovy new room and....

Have a latte thanks to our new Tassimo!

To be totally honest, out of all the jazzy new things in our room, this is by far my favorite part. It makes lattes, cappuccinos, hot chocolate that is to die for, and, well, coffee and stuff but I don't even drink coffee. I can't quite contain my excitement about this little baby, so make sure you come over and let us make you something with it! I swear, it will make our day!!!!

Ok friends, hope to have you over soon in our spiffy new room. Until then, stay happy 😊

Lauren & Dave

March 4, 2007 by lauren

Not me! Another Lauren! I know, how crazy. Lauren is actually a friend from highschool and today we had the privilege of hanging out with her and Dave to take some shots. Downtown again! That's pretty much the only time you can find us downtown, is when we're shooting, but it actually isn't too bad. Today was also a wonderfully warm day and we didn't get kicked out of a single place for taking pictures. All in all, a great time. Now here's what you come for: the pictures

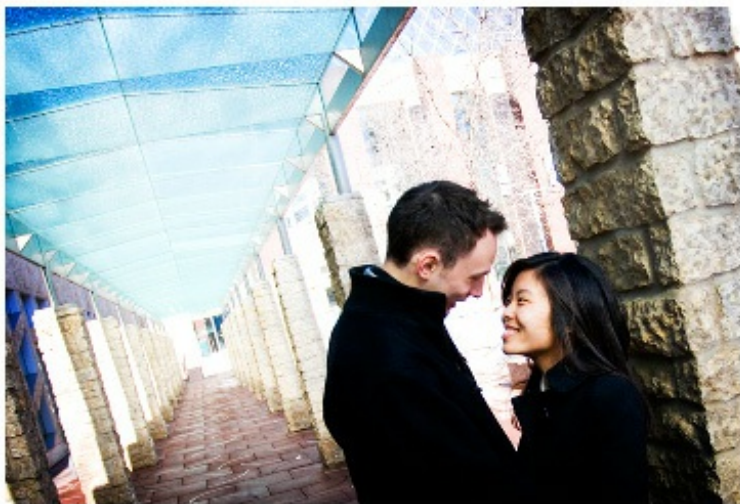

Super cool colours:

Katherine & Drew

February 26, 2007 by lauren

We had a fun little couples session this weekend with Katherine and Drew! Believe it or not, you can get some fun pictures in downtown Edmonton!!!!!! Even though we got kicked out of Canada Place, we still had fun, stayed warm, and got some great shots.

Reuben!

February 25, 2007 by lauren

So Reuben is actually our neighbor! We got to go over, hang out and take some pictures. And then the trip home lasted a whole 10 seconds! Here are some of the pictures we got out of all the fun:

Hang tight!

February 23, 2007 by lauren

I know its been a while since we've posted anything. It's not because we're boring and haven't done anything exciting. Quite the opposite actually! We're in the middle of a big project that is really going to make our client meetings 300% more fun (and they're fun already, imagine how fun that will be!) and there will be pictures soon. Promise. But we have a couple of finishing touches before we can reveal!

So hang tight, and we will fill you in soon!

With love,

rob & lauren

Emma!

February 10, 2007 by lauren

So we got to hang out with Emma the other day. Tons. Of. FUN! She was very very interested in all of our camera equipment, especially the lenses, so we wouldn't be surprised if she turned out to be a photographer one day! 😊

Anyway, here are some pictures from our little session:

Thanks Emma!

OMG New Website!

February 7, 2007 by lauren

I know you don't even believe it. I've said it for months and you've all given up hope. But it is here! Our new website!!!

It's fun, unique and much easier to work with. Just the way we like it 😊

Major thanks goes to all who have helped us along the way to get this thing up. Biggest thanks go to my friend Jordan, who helped do all the crazy programming stuff that made the site so easy to update. I'd link to his online testing site, in case anyone was looking to get someone to do their online testing, but it now seems to be a German site...I'll have to figure that out. But major thanks to him!

Anyway, I encourage you all to check it out. We've put a lot of information up there, some new cool pictures, and you can even subscribe to our newsletter, which we will be sending out soon.

So I'll let you go because I know you're just itching to get to that new, and very cool looking site!
